DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "said attachable connector" in line 9. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 2 recites the limitation "or any other suitable assembly method" in line 6, which makes it indefinite as to the other assembly methods being used.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "the two fabric pieces" in lines 2 and 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "protective ring" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 8 recites the limitation "said screw-in connector" and "said fabric pieces" in lines 2 and 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cordani in view of Goodger.

The Cordani reference discloses a "protective inlay material" 26 placed between two "fabric pieces" 20 and 22 (see Fig. 4), but doesn't disclose a gas opening sized to fully protect the paint surrounding a gas spout. However, the Goodger reference discloses a gas tank paint protector having a "gas opening" 16 to surround various gas spouts. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the Cordani device to have a hole in view of the teachings of the Goodger reference in order to be able to employ the fluid absorbortion mat about gas spouts to catch fuel and protect the paint.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Wagner reference discloses another vehicle paint protector.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 8 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Claims 2-4, 7, 9 and 10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
